Reach Out

REACH OUT to help someone else and, as the song goes, our world will be a better place in which to live. The rules are but one:

REACH OUT.

"Precious and Few" Brings Memories

Dancing till 3 in the morning to the music of Walden, CHS prom goers wearily shed the formalities of the prom to let themselves go at the not-so-formal afterprom.

The date of the big event was April 28 and the setting was, for the first time, the Shiloh.

Vice-president of the senior class, Mike Bush, passes the loving cup to the vice-president of the junior class, John Penninger.

These couples all enjoy the music.

Judy happily takes the roses John gives her.

This Year's Queen's court consisted of Susie Schener, Carol Pence, Judy Creech, Diann Nestel, and Donna Fry. Their escorts were Sam Boggs, Bruce Miller, Jim Zent, Gary Snyder, and Brad Dell.

Mary Tomlins puts her efforts in reading the prophecy.

Renee Archart crowns and congratulates Judy.

Enthusiasm Stems from All Classes

At our six fun-filled pep sessions last year the coaches spoke, the cheerleaders cheered and did skits, the band played, and the fans all went wild. The pep sessions brought out our senses of humor, competitiveness, and imagination. A CHS pep session gave the Eagles what they needed when the going got a little rough.

Mr. Delagrange loses his bet. Paul Merrill really did stick out the whole football season.

Carol Pence joyously pours the chocolate over the victory cake.

Those cheerleaders are at it again! Could they be dancing to the "Stripper"?

Fred Carson and Mark Peters ask the football player if it hurts.

Spirit, spirit, let's hear it!

Assemblies Entertain Throughout the Year

A King Fu expert very carefully cuts a potato in half while Mr. Huntsman acts as a table.

The New Era entertains for many occasions.

Bill Russch introduces the next guest.

Santa was at the Christmas assembly to pass out the presents.

Mr. Amter talks about the "Busco Ballet".

The Good Times Are Always at CHS

Some kids try to get a good look at school.

These kids can look mean enough to get into the word.

Somebody doesn't want to have to get into the word.

Moving-In Day

"Follow the teacher, do not allow the chairs to touch the walls. keep the chairs from touching the carpet, stay in single file." These were just some of the suggestions students were given as they moved into the new classrooms.

For months the students and faculty anticipated that day. Dreams finally became reality as everyone eagerly pitched in to get settled into the new rooms.

Smocks, Clogs, and Baggies Come to C.H.S.

Marcia, Kathy, Katie, and Becky model the fashions seen around the halls at CHS.

Clogs are shoes, baggies are slacks, and smocks are tops. These were just a few of the fads and fashions seen worn about C.H.S. during the school year. Clogs were made with wooden cork, and rubber soles. They were patent leather, suede, or plaid fabric. Baggies were a come back of early 1930 women styles. The pants were then a take off of men's trousers. Smock tops came in all styles and the fabric determined whether it was for dressy occasions or informal gatherings.

Seniors Trip to N.Y., D.C.

Well, we have to rest sometime.

Bill Monesmith can't be asleep again!

Gosh, gang, I sure hope this isn't our last plane ride.

The changing of the guard at the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier was just one of the interesting sights.

A Mystery, Comedy Play Is a Hit

"Finders Creepers" is a comedy of the 1950's. It shows Wilbur Maxwell and Hercules Nelson going to visit Hercules' Uncle Bob, who recently has become a mortician. The plot thickens as Mr. Quigley, a supposedly dead wealthy man, is brought to the funeral home.

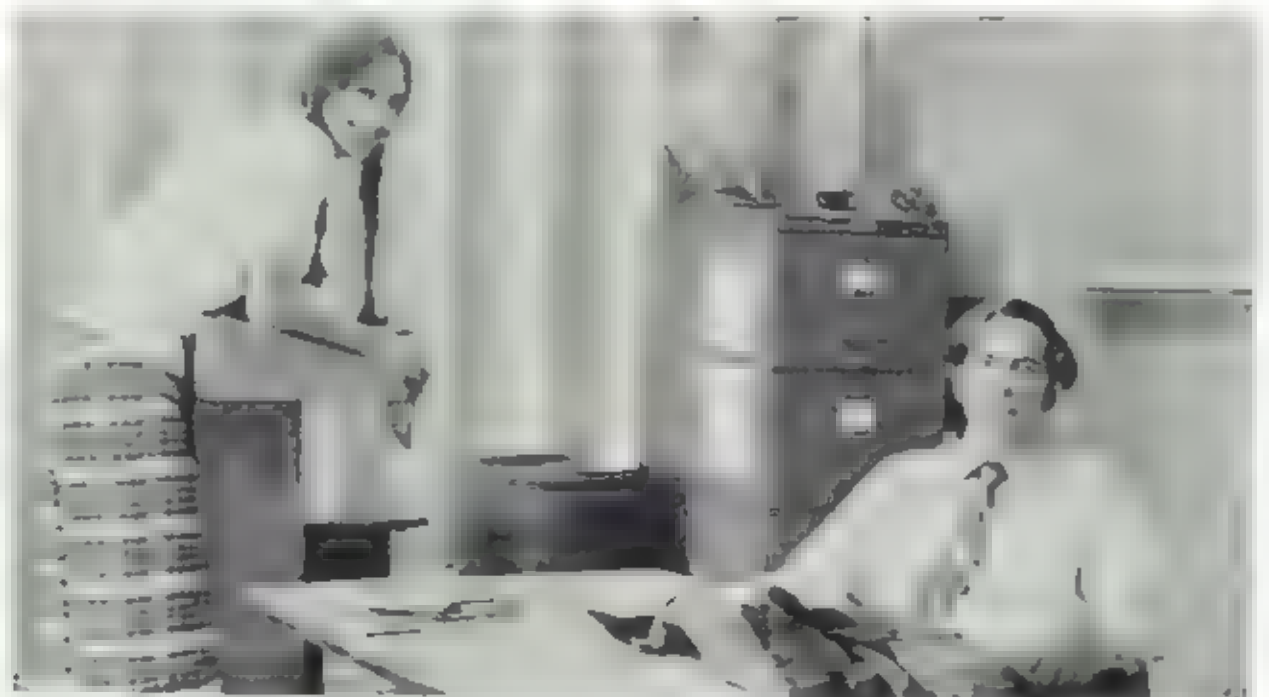

Pretty young girls, a mysterious maid, and a not-too-bright handy man help to make an evening of light humorous entertainment.

You can't fool me Bob, you are going to jail!

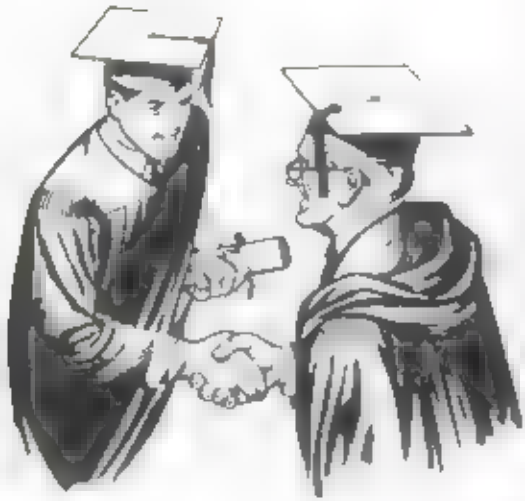

Gosh, Wilbur it's a ghost!

Juniors Reach Out

Our Paths Must Part

Don Odle of Taylor University challenges the seniors to meet the "Crisis of the Hour."

CHS Gives Recognition on Awards Day

Rex Allman receives congratulations from Mr. Delagrange for being the Valedictorian of the class of '73.

The top freshman students were Tim Henning, David Lewis and Jo Ann Wappes.

Matt Goffinet gets an award for being the top science student in the class of 1973.

Top junior students were Jim Zent and Karen Nelson, top sophomores were Chuck Zumbrun and Jill McDowell, top freshmen were Tim Henning and David Lewis.

Rick McConnell is recognized for his independent research in science.

Awarded with a scholarship is Mike Bush.

Clubs Reach Out to Fulfill

Clubs always put newcomers through such torture.

You can't tell some club advisers from kids in the hall.

Karen Gatwood doesn't seem to mind her initiation.

Jill McDowell and Cheryl Swinehart enjoy collecting dues.

The yearbook adviser turns up a lot of calories during club meetings.

NHS Promotes Character, Scholarship, Leadership, and Service.

Membership in the National Honor Society has become recognized nationally as one of the highest honors that can be bestowed upon a high school student. Membership is more than an honor; it carries with it a responsibility. The Student of the NHS should not only continue to demonstrate those qualities which brought about his selection, but he should exert a new influence to improve the conditions about him.

The induction of students into the CHS National Honor Society was an important event for the students, their parents, who were guests at the ceremony, and the school.

Row 2—Mark Bair, Doug Shively, Jack Imbody, Lee Long, Scott Carter, Rick Fidelity, Dan Schwabow, Coach Bair.

The Freshman ended their season with a record of 8 wins and 7 losses. During the season they had a hot streak and won 7 games in a row. Going on to the Homestead Tourney they were disappointed by being defeated by DeKalb by one point. Leading scorers were Charlie Hansen and Mike Dell with 118 and 140 respectively. The leading rebounder was Mike Dell with a total of 133 rebounds.

Commercial Courses Prepare C.H.S.

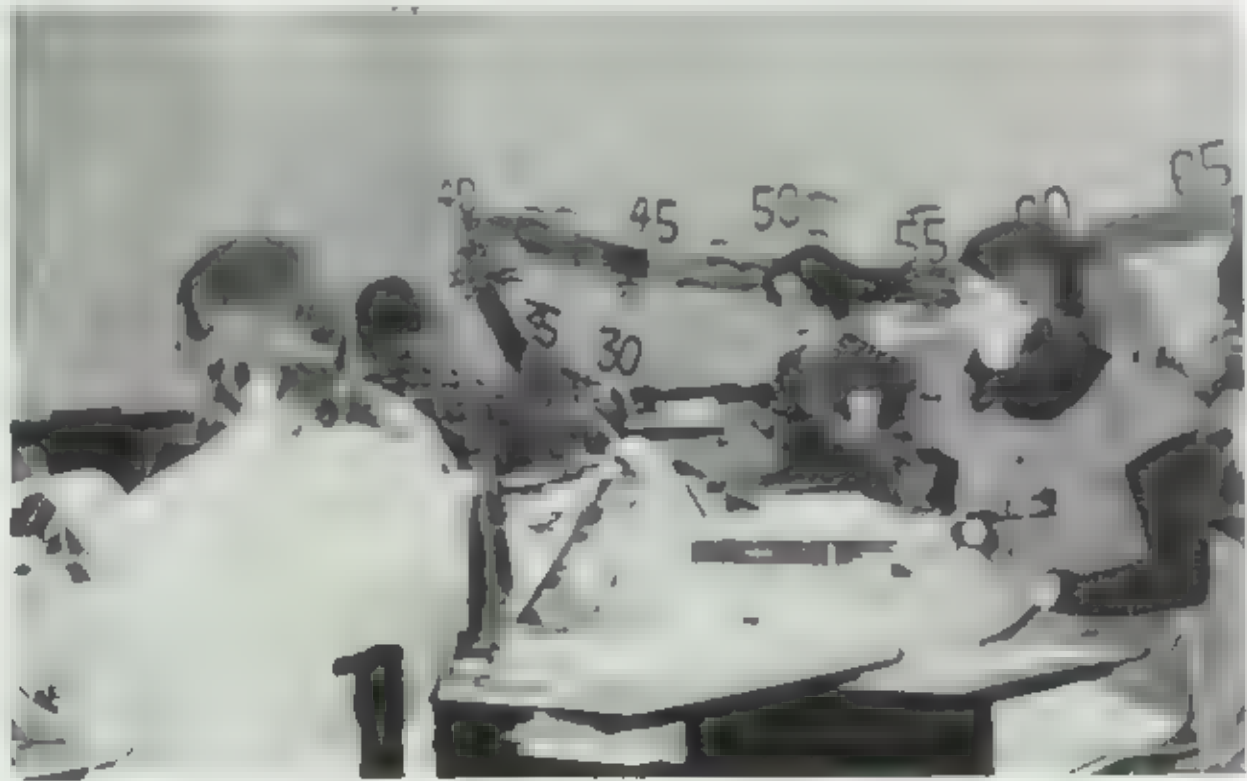

Looking ahead to secretarial positions, students take typing, shorthand, bookkeeping, business math, general business, office practice, and related instruction. These courses taught by Mr. Johnson, Mrs. Blackburn, and Miss Hughes, help to prepare students for future vocational and business careers.

Practice sets, margins, manuscripts and letters are some of the challenges Miss Hughes and Mrs. Blackburn present to their students.

The general business students study different areas of business, such as insurance, taxes and stocks and bonds. All of these help to prepare the students for future business careers.

Students for Business Careers

Readin', Writin' and Arithmetic Are Still the Basics

Each student included English in his class schedule for three years. The freshmen were taught by Miss Krider. The sophomores by Mrs. Hontz and Mr. Hackworth. The juniors by Mr. Norman. As electives the English Department offered senior English and two years of speech.

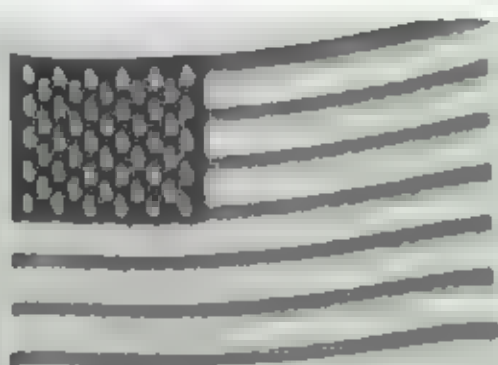

Demonstration speeches are really a lot of fun!

Mr. Hackworth and Dale Bunn help "Zi" get her slides ready

Mr. Norman allows his junior English class some study time.

Miss Krider tries to convince her class English really is exciting.

General Math, Algebra, Geometry and Trigonometry direct the students' minds toward more logical thinking. The power to reason and arrive at a solution mathematically is attained through diligence and hard work by the students and expert teaching on the part of the faculty.

Algebra I, II, and Geometry, and Trigonometry are all taught by Mr. Weaver. General Math is taught by Mr. Gerig.

No matter what field the student is interested in, math will play an important role in that field. To have a better understanding of tomorrow, a good math background is a must

Mr. Gerig has his General Math students excited about a solution

Mr. Gerber helps his junior high students with a difficult math problem

Students Learn of Frogs and Phosphates

General Science, Biology, Advanced Biology, Chemistry, Physics and Physical Science were all offered last year.

Mr. Arrowsmith and Mr. Bair taught general science which was required of junior high students. Freshmen went on to take Biology, taught by Mr. Scribner and sophomores were all required to take one semester of Health and Safety, taught by Mr. Arrowsmith.

Mr. Littlepage taught Chemistry, Physics, and Physical Science. These classes were electives taken by juniors and seniors.

This year new Biology and Chemistry labs were built. The labs were better equipped to fulfill the needs of our science-minded students.

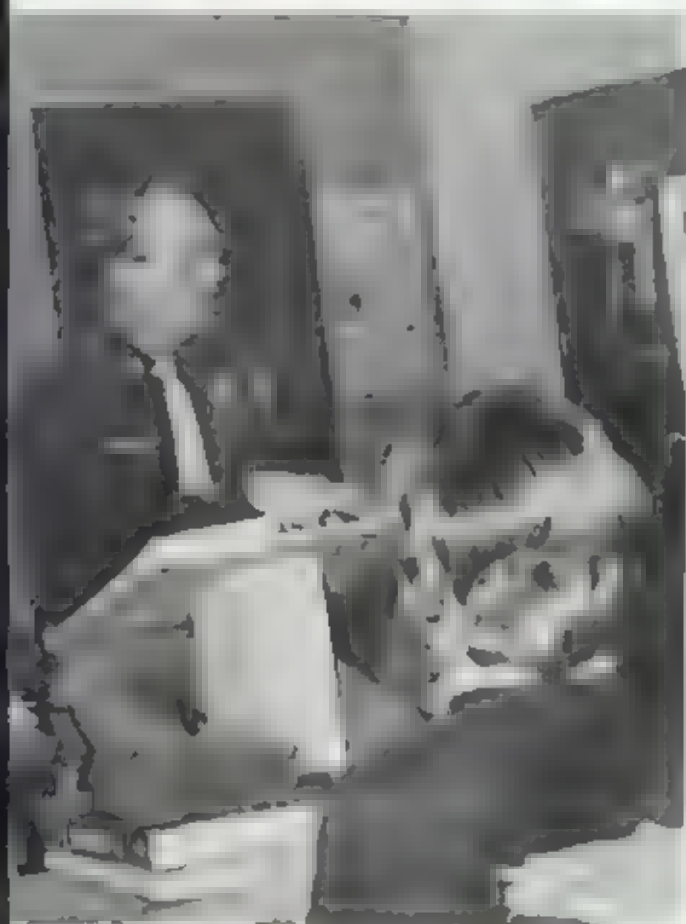

Students Study Society

The Social Studies Department offers a variety of subjects: government, sociology, world history, U.S. history, economics, geography, and psychology. Teaching these courses were Mr. Jones, Mr. Hackworth, Mr. Evans, Mr. Woodcox, and Mr. Yager.

Each of these classes highlighted the social studies role in preparing young adults for a dynamic and ever-changing world.

Mr. Woodcox watches his seventh grade study.

Sgt. Jack, Public Relations Officer for the Indiana State Police, spoke of the crime problem to the sociology class.

Mr. Jones is lecturing today!

Mr. Jones uses the audio-visual aids for his courses.

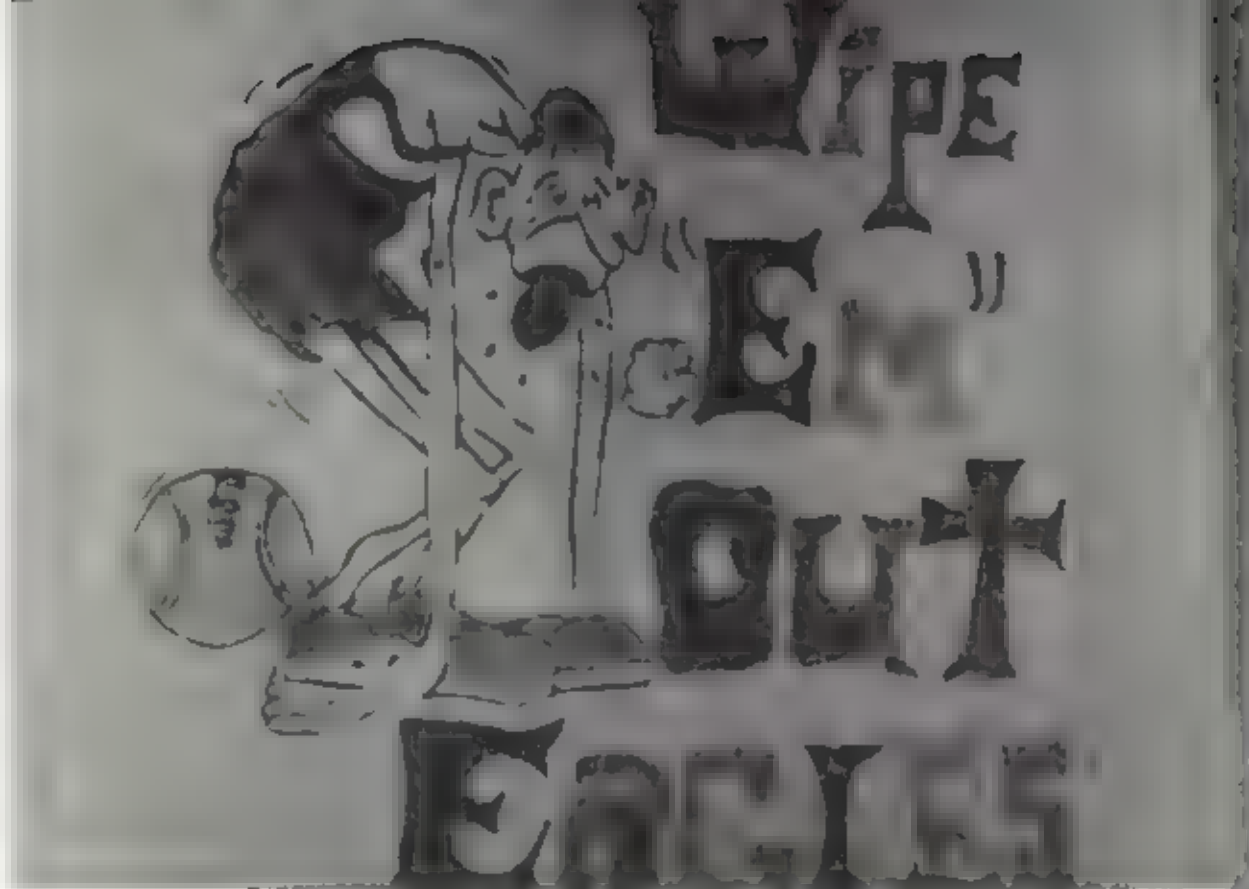

Art Abilities Displayed by Students

Dave Byerley works at a different type of art

Students display their art abilities during basketball season

These junior high classes use their imaginations for creativity

This year when a student at CHS walked through the halls and past the office, he viewed the art displays and silently complimented the artists. To the artists the displays represented hours of hard work and self satisfaction, not only a grade, but for the self respect complimenting a job well done.

Mrs. Tuck's daily schedule of classes included Art I, II, III, and IV and also junior high classes. Because of the new facilities in the new art room, students enjoyed art class more this year than in past years.

Shop and Ag Classes Make Future Farmers

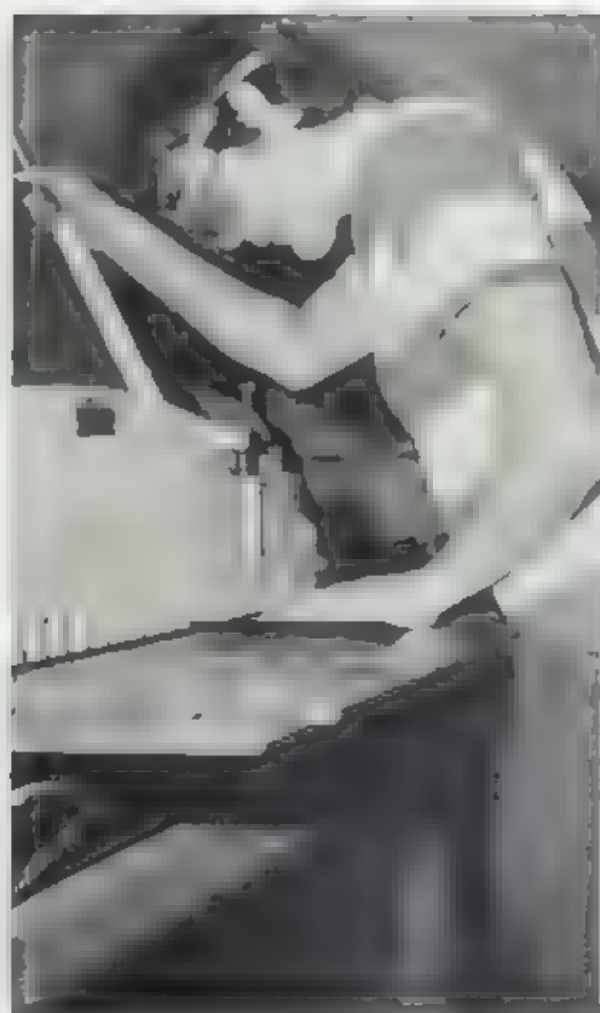

Mr. Huntsman explains the characteristics of a good dairy cow to Jeff Ross-wurm.

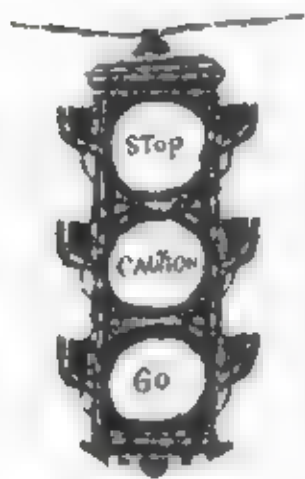

Randy does his share of the daily chores in shop.

Dick Shlater measures his metal cutting carefully.

Renee likes shop work, (even though she is a girl).

Driving, Dressing Are Important to Life

Mr. Worl gets set to go for a ride with George, Mark, and Peggy.

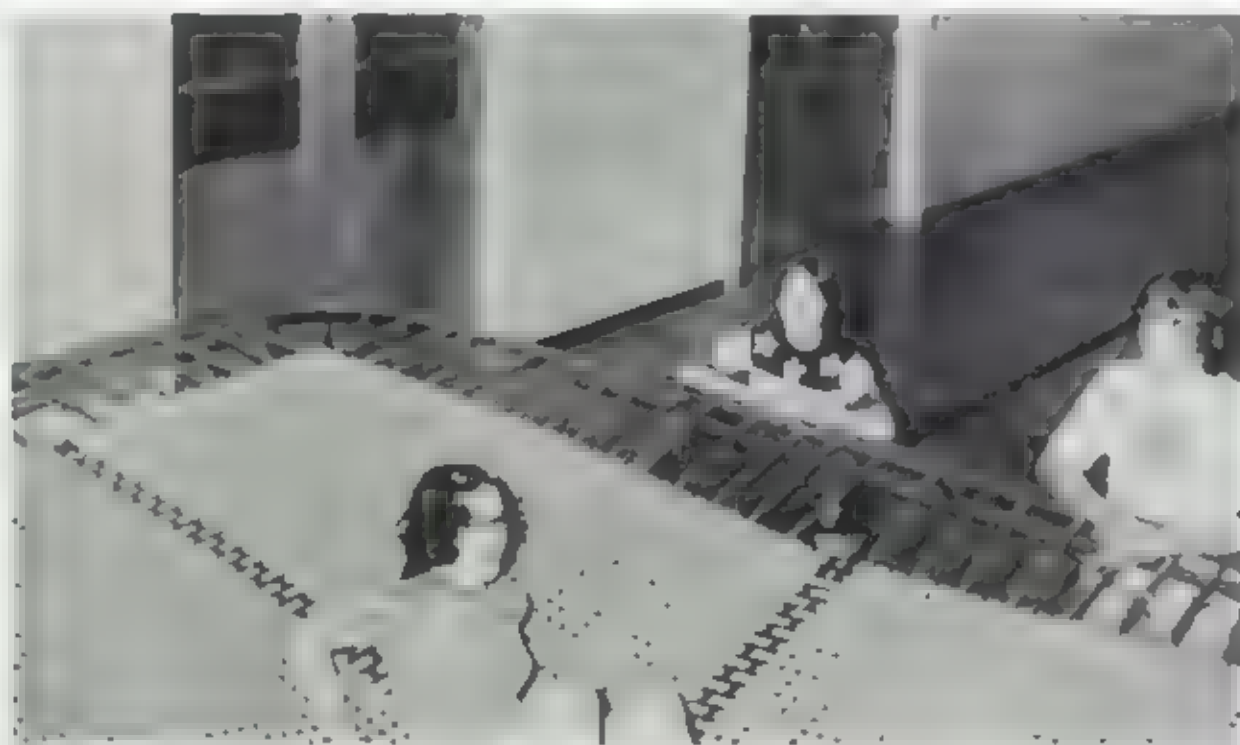

Home-Ec. girls study formals of the past to learn more of the present

Mrs. Baughman helps Kelly into one of the hits of the past

P.E. Develops Sportsmanship & Skill

Debra Gager gets more bounce to the ounce on the tramp.

Who knows, maybe a future world champ badminton team.

There has to be an easier way to play soccer.

Well, you can't hit them all.

The Band Swings with a Heavy Sound

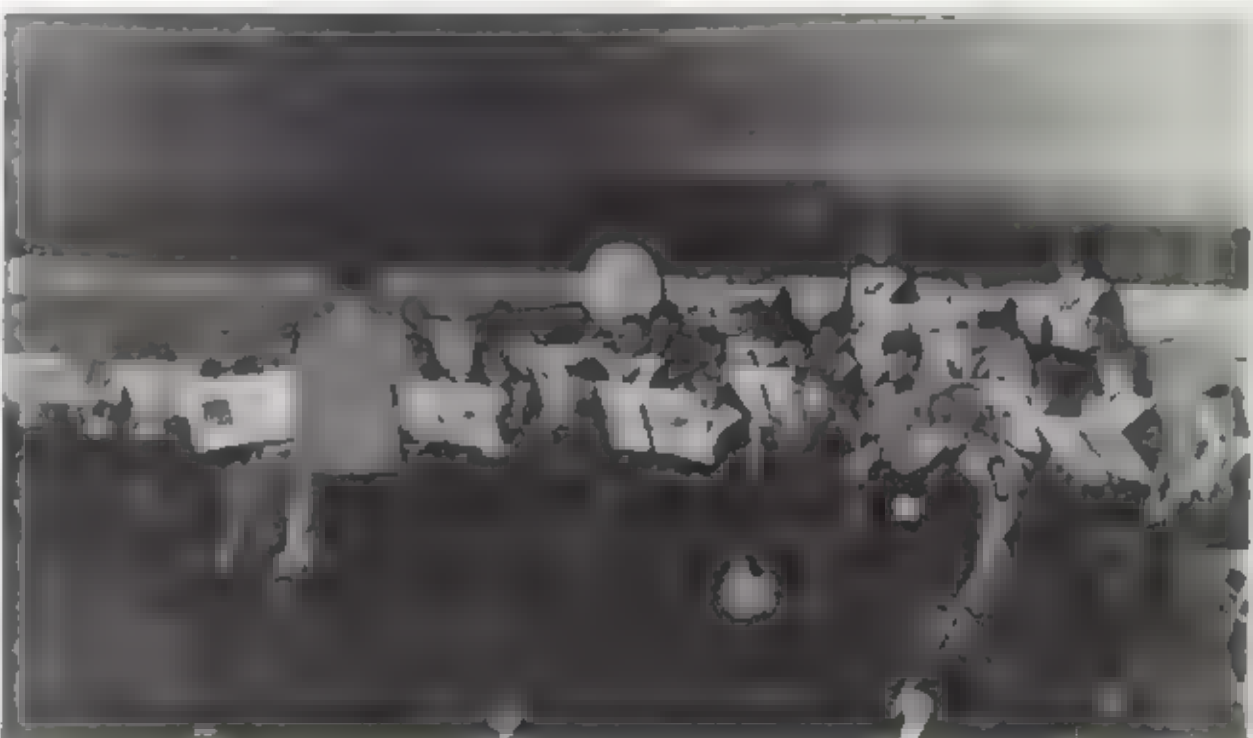

Those sinking to the top of their shoes in the mud of the football field, the band marches on to perform the half time show.

Seriously Carol Leitch and Patrice Gof finett play "The Horse With No Name" to the accompaniment of the band

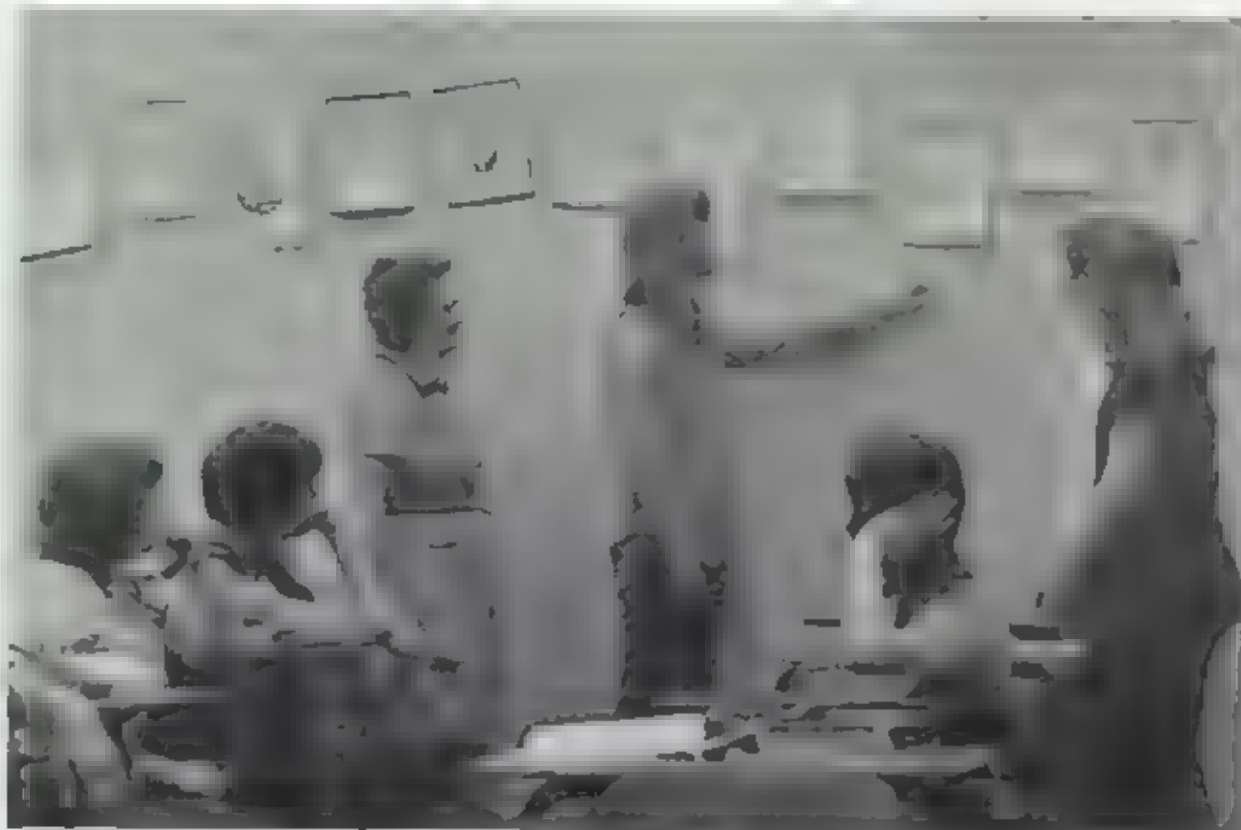

Nervously Karen Nelson directs "I'd Like to Teach the World to Sing" while the high school watches

Hot from wearing the uniforms and yelling, the band still finds some energy to play for the people at the Coliseum

Everyone Enjoys Foreign Languages

Theresa Hyndman is reciting the Latin word for these flower segments.

Spanish students listen to a tape through their new headphones.

Teachers listen too!

Spanish initiation is too much!

JUST BECAUSE

by Michele Juillerat

Just because someone dies
does that mean that they have to cease living in our memory?
It's true that we cannot live in a memory but memories of friends can live on forever and their spirits can walk through the lanes of our minds to be remembered with happiness and joy

School Board Brings Expansion

The greatest accomplishment of the school board this year was being responsible for the completion of the new additions of CHS. The approximate cost of the new addition is $3.6 million. It has eight suites, each containing rooms for different subjects.

The 1973-72 school board consisted of Clarence Resler, Lester Sheets, Everett Jones, Jason Smith, Marshall Linville, and Lauradel Welch
